

Price Prevails

S&P 500 +0.57% to a new record close as software and semiconductors lead. Growth Portfolio +1.24%, Dividend +0.37%. US and Iran agree to extend the ceasefire; PCE inflation posts its largest annual gain in three years.

THE SESSION

The index closed at a new record, and it did so against a tape that gave it every reason not to. The S&P 500 rose 0.57% to 7,563, the Nasdaq added 0.90%, and the Dow held essentially flat. The advance settled the question that had been hanging over the market all week — an index pinned near its highs while sentiment sat in extreme fear — firmly on the side of price.

Two catalysts carried the day. Washington and Tehran agreed to a 60-day memorandum extending the ceasefire, pending final approval, which let the energy and risk complexes exhale. And a blowout outlook from a major enterprise-software name reignited the entire software group, with the sector ETF up nearly 3%. The semiconductors that had given back ground at midweek rebounded with conviction.

The market also chose what to ignore. The Fed's preferred inflation gauge posted its largest annual increase in three years, a reading that keeps a rate hike on the table. Equities looked straight through it — the VIX eased to 15.6. The one corner that flinched was digital assets: Bitcoin slipped to a multi-week low and the crypto-linked funds followed, the lone soft patch on an otherwise broad advance.

IOWN Tactical: We were handed a hot inflation print and a fragile ceasefire, and the market closed at a record anyway. We don't trade the headlines — we own through them. The portfolio was built for exactly this kind of two-sided tape. Avoid Erosion.

IOWN HOLDINGS: NOTABLE MOVERS

WINNERS

HOOD +11.29%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

Introduced AI tools that let automated agents trade and spend on a user's behalf, per reporting — the proximate driver of the session's largest single-name advance.

HUT +5.61%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

The miner advanced even as Bitcoin slipped, tracking the broader risk bid rather than spot prices.

COIN +4.87%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

Reports of a Standard Chartered partnership to widen global fiat access lifted shares despite the soft crypto tape.

AMD +4.55%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

Semiconductors rebounded after midweek profit-taking, with AMD leading the sleeve's recovery.

QCOM +4.24%

DIVIDEND STRATEGY

Signed what reporting described as its largest AI agreement to date, a partnership with ByteDance — a meaningful step beyond its handset franchise.

MRVL +3.09%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

Rejoined the semiconductor rebound alongside AMD as the AI-infrastructure bid returned.

VLO +1.88%

DIVIDEND STRATEGY

Refining names firmed as the energy complex steadied on the ceasefire-extension news.

DECLINERS

CAT -2.45%

DIVIDEND STRATEGY

Gave back part of a strong recent run; the industrial bellwether led Dow decliners on the day.

KEYS -2.45%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

The electronic-measurement name pulled back, lagging the broader tech advance.

EIX -1.93%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

The rate-sensitive utility eased as the hot inflation print firmed the case for tighter policy.

ATO -1.82%

DIVIDEND STRATEGY

The gas utility declined with the rate-sensitive group following the PCE reading.

IBIT -2.10%

DIGITAL ASSET ETF

Tracked Bitcoin's slide to a multi-week low; ETHA fell 1.91% and MARA -1.81% as the strikes drove a crypto risk-off.

HOLDINGS NEWS

QCOM — ByteDance AI deal. Qualcomm signed a major AI partnership with ByteDance, characterized in reporting as the largest such agreement in the company's history. The deal diversifies the franchise toward AI compute and away from its dependence on handset chipsets.

HOOD — AI-agent trading. Robinhood unveiled a capability allowing AI agents to execute trades and spending for users. The rollout reframes the platform's growth narrative around automation and was the catalyst behind the day's outsized move.

PORTFOLIO PERFORMANCE

DIVIDEND STRATEGY

✓ BEAT ONE

+0.37%

vs. DVY -0.14% | SPY +0.56%

GROWTH PORTFOLIO

✓ BEAT

+1.24%

vs. IUSG +0.88%

YEAR-TO-DATE

Dividend +14.09% vs DVY +9.87% / SPY +10.67%

Growth +16.22% vs IUSG +13.49%